STUDY IN NORWAY

NORWAY

Over 300 peaks with a height of more than 2000 meters are found in Norway, there are also numerous impressive waterfalls, rivers, and lakes.

Some of the longest, narrowest, and most beautiful fjords in the world can be found in Norway, where mountains rise steeply on three sides and the sea cuts into the landscape.

The sun never sets or rises in the winter or summer in Norway's northern part, above the arctic circle. You can see the northern lights and the midnight sun.
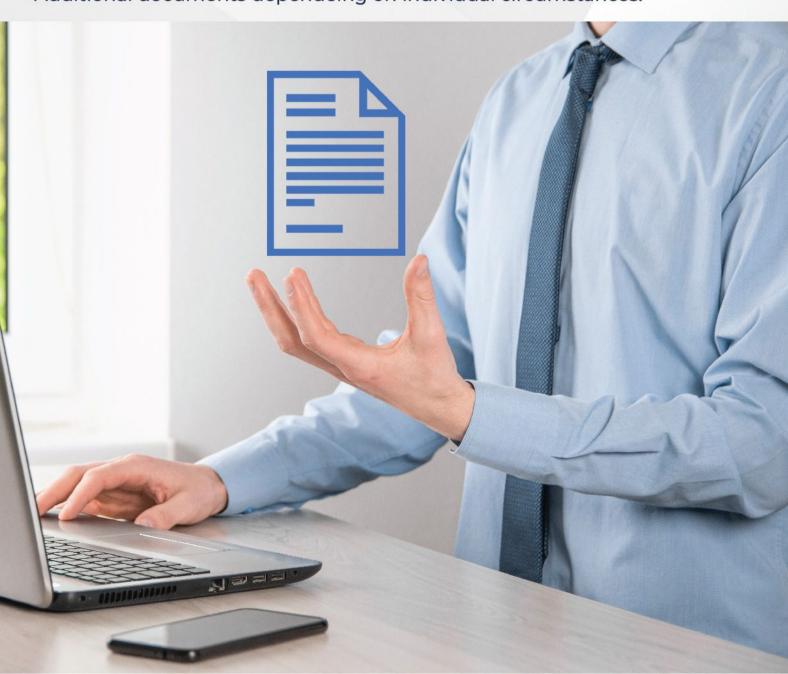

WHY STUDY IN NORWAY

Modern facilities, cutting-edge technologies, and groundbreaking research are all found in Norway's higher education establishments. Nobel Prizes in literature, medicine, chemistry, physics, economics, and peace have gone to people who were educated at these institutions or who taught or conducted research there.

In Norway, there are both public and private universities offering higher education. Some are more focused on applied sciences, while others are more general.
